

Attendance Campaign

Minister for Education and Youth Helen McEntee, in partnership with the Tusla Education Support Service (TESS), has announced the launch of a nationwide campaign to promote regular school attendance across Ireland.

Regular school attendance is important to provide our children and young people with a solid foundation for life. When our children miss school, they miss out – on learning, social development and valuable time with their friends and teachers.

1 in 5 students in primary and post-primary schools are missing a month or more of their school year. Encouraging school attendance is within the power of everyone in a student's life. When a child or young person can go to school, they should go to school. Every school day is a new day and a new opportunity for everyone to actively encourage school attendance.

We are working hard at Riverchapel N.S. to attend school on time each day. We are proud of the progress we have made and we hope our enthusiasm and commitment continues to grow.
